On the heels of a highly successful Restorative Justice Conference in Hartford, Connecticut, led by Dr. Alissa Ackerman, Dr. Jill Levenson, and other notables, sponsored by our Connecticut affiliate One Standard of Justice, NARSOL presents a four-part series of one person's story told by him. The author describes his journey as, "In and through the pain – an offender, victim, and survivor's story from a restorative justice perspective."

Part I: Introduction of "I'm a child rapist" : A story in four parts will be published here Saturday, April 20.
