

Homeless offenders in Brevard County struggle to find resources and shelter

written by admin | January 7, 2022

Jason is sitting in Brevard County Jail waiting to appear before a judge on a charge of violating parole. He'd rather be anywhere else, but the reality is he's not wanted many other places. A charge against him made in 1998 at 15 years old, of which he was convicted in 2000, [...]
