

After a registered sex offender moves near the Hampton Township school, the mother wants to change state laws

written by admin | December 15, 2022

Flyers distributed by Hampton Township Police Department informed parents and people living in the Central Elementary School area that a registered sex offender had moved nearby. Community notification is required under Pennsylvania's Megan's Law, but the law does not limit where an offender may live. After learning that this individual lived less

Read more