

Support Assistance

written by Fred | March 28, 2017

NARSOL is an advocacy organization, not a support organization. Additionally, we are not a legal organization and are unable to give legal advice or help with individual legal cases or issues.

We do encourage the development of Fearless Groups, which are support groups. See <https://narsol.org/projects/support/fearless/>.

If you have questions about registry issues where you are, or are seeking contact persons in your state, NARSOL will attempt to connect you with those who can help.

If your state has an affiliated organization, it will be listed, along with contact information, here: <https://narsol.org/about-us/affiliates/>. You may contact these organizations directly.

Your state group or contact person is the most likely to be able to answer your registry-related questions. If there is no affiliate organization in your state, you may call 888.997.7765 and leave a message that includes your number, first name, and state. You may also send an email message at <https://narsol.org/contact/>.
